To whom it may concern,

Resultz Group and I personally have been working with Bradfield's for nearly four years and find their company to be extremely focussed on the health and safety of both their staff and others involved in their day to day operations.

They have a robust Drug & Alcohol testing programme in place which is well managed to allow for peak season staff increase along with stringent pre-employment checks to ensure the company standard is upheld. Bradfield's proudly display a zero tolerance to Drug use in the workplace and boast year on year success with 100% pass rate for illicit and misused prescribed substance and alcohol tests.

In addition to the high standard of health and safety practices demonstrated, Bradfield's conduct their business with professionalism and integrity making them a company I'm pleased to recommend.

Kind Regards,
